On February 11 and 12, "We are TECH.C.2019" was held at the NS Building in Shinjuku. We interviewed a team that presented a board game they made in this exhibition. "I was in charge of level design in this game," said Mr. Hwang, a 2nd year majoring in game planning・scenario. He said, "I've controlled the balance of test play over and over again so that the player can have a better experience, it's hard to control the number of soldiers especially." Wang, a 3rd year in the same major, said, "To make the rulebook which is my main work, I've made dozens of revisions to make it easier to understand the explanations. I felt fulfilled and accomplishment when people enjoyed playing games with my rulebook. I'm also very grateful to my teacher for cooperation."

CHEN JIN GUANG

China Waseda Bunkakan Japanese Language Course

Tokyo Communication Art College held the Graduation and Promotion Exhibition 'we are TCA' at Makuhari Messe on February 8th and 9th, 2019. Chen Jinguang, a 2nd year majoring in Wild animal and Environment Conservation, put on intrpretation on nature explanation at environment booth for two days. In June, he went to the Millennium Mori Nature School in Omachi, Nagano Prefecture for this interpretation, and conducted a survey on living things and plants. The purpose of this interpreter was to create an opportunity for visitors to take an interest in the natural environment and to increase the number of people who are involved in environmental conservation and protection. It was a great opportunity for many business people and visitors to listen to Mr. Chen's interpreter and think about the natural environment.

Company Project

Grand Prize Winner of Corporate Project of House Food Corporation!

OCA OCA Osaka College of Deisgn & IT
 Web Design and Editing Planning Major (3rd year)

ARIEL MAXINE CHIA KIM HOONG

Malaysia Pusat Bahasa Teikyo

Ms. Ariel Maxine Chia Kim Hoong, third year of web design and editing planning major, worked on a company project of House Food Corporation with her classmates. As a result of giving a presentation to the company, her group won the highest award! They also gave a presentation at OCA's Graduation and Advancement Production Exhibition! She said that "I experienced teamwork and I thought communication was important after all. As we shared roles in the team, we need to work with an image of the goals we decided, rather than doing what we want to do. By exchanging opinions with each other, we are able to do better works because we come up with ideas we didn't know or thought. I realized that was the difference with personal work. This time I had to think broadly, but it was a very good experience."

Got Award for Excellence in Corporate Project!

Osaka School of Culinary Arts
Pâtissier Course (2nd year)

CHRISTIAN ANGKASA
Indonesia MANABI Japanese Language Institute

Mr. Christian Angkasa, an international student from Indonesia, received an award of excellence for a product development project of ANA Crowne Plaza Hotel Osaka. The assignment is "proposing cakes to sell during Easter." He finished European-style Easter cake "Rafraichir" while repeating trial and error many times with two Japanese classmates of the same team. He said that "I made this cake because I would like to spread the Carrot cake which is popular in foreign countries to Japanese people. What was difficult is the mousse part that fits the dough. We made many prototypes and decided the combination of dough and mousse while getting advice from the chef. Finally, by combining white chocolate mousse and berry mousse with fluffy carrot cake and adding cinnamon, we were able to finish the cake with an accent on the aroma." He also said, "I was able to learn the importance of assembling the finished image of the cake in advance through this corporate project. I felt that this experience led to my growth."

Web Creator Major (1st year)

XIAO KAIWEN
China ISI Language College

Xiao, who majored in Web Creator, has been active in company projects since he entered the school. As a result of company project of the new company, NeoAssociation Inc., they have adopted his design for their logo. It was a project that required understanding of the company's features and concept from design of the logo. Another project proposal for wall painting art exhibited in the school's space within The Electronic Music Collective, which was opened in the fall of 2018, also adopted his wall painting design. It was a project that came up with an understanding of the features of EMC, including images of streets in Japan, cultural aspects of NY, cities, electronic music, dance music, reggae, hip hop, etc. Adopted works were also exhibited at the Graduation/Promotion Exhibition 'We are TECH.C.2019' and received high praise from visitors. Xiao said, "The school classes are good and I like the atmosphere very much. It's a great experience for me to be able to participate in a company project while I'm in school. From now on, I want to improve my skills and do my best to display better works."

The Greatness of Human Potential

Tokyo Design Technology Center College
Super IT Engineer Major (3rd year)

CHAN YOU CHUN
Malaysia KCP International Japanese Language School

On February 15 (Fri), IoT developer Bodo Hoenen from the U.S. gave a lecture titled "The Story of Global Scale Using IT and Manufacturing." Chan, who majored in Super IT engineer 3rd year, said after this lecture, "I learned the importance of acting bravely no matter what difficulties I have. "In order to help his sick daughter, Bodo developed a new device using technology approaching in a different way from a doctor. "I was impressed by the idea that 'what I started for my daughter might give other people with the same worries a little bit of hope. I want more and more people to be saved.' And I also want more penetration of open social innovation (multiple experts working together to solve social problems) that I mentioned at this time, as it is not well known in Japan."

Mr. Bodo Hoenen

IoT developers from New York, who have also spoken at the United Nations.
Social entrepreneurs, consultants, innovators and thought leaders. He is doing activities to make the world better for children.

Industry Training

Participate in the film shooting as an internship!

Broad Broadcasting Arts College
 Movie Drama Production Course (1st year)

YUAN MAN KIT

Hong Kong Kansai College of Business & Language

3 students including an international student, Mr. Yuan Man Kit participated in the shooting of the movie "Jidai Okure" (provisional title) featuring comedians, Mr. Kanpei Hazama, his son and singer Mr. Shintaro Hazama and Kenji Tamura at Awaji Island, Hyogo Prefecture. Mr. Yuan Man Kit said, "I felt that there was no more enjoyable place unlike the ones I experienced so far. I participated as a director and was entrusted with the clapperboard under the assistant director. People who haven't done it say clapperboard is easy, but it's actually not easy, even a few mistakes can take time. There is a lot of learning just to hit the clapperboard. In addition to writing the number of correct scene cut take, the position of hitting the clapperboard changes depending on lens and focus of the camera and using a flashlight in a dark place. This time, though it was a hard schedule, I was able to get along well with all the performers and do my best because there are full of laughter and smile. It will be exhibited at "The 11th Okinawa International Film Festival" held in Naha City in April. Look forward to completion! !

CHEN TE HUAI

Taiwan Japanese Communication International School

A foreign student from Taiwan, Mr. CHEN TE HUAI joined regular performance of the popular dance and vocal unit "DA's" as a bassist on 26th January 2019 at YES THEATER of Namba. DA's is a female unit of 40 women from current students and graduates of Osaka College of Dance & Actors. Their performance at Okinawa International Film Festival, regular performance and music videos are on the rise with popularity such as being uploaded on YouTube! "I was very nervous when I first performed together. DA's performed every month, so I learned a lot about the work in the music industry. Having worked with fixed members was a really good opportunity for me to grow and this activity also led to other opportunities and I am truly grateful." It is his dream to become a bassist of a famous band in Taiwan after graduation!

International New Year's Party

TCA Tokyo Communication Arts College

The taste brings back memories

On February 2 (Sat), TCA held the New Year's Party in accordance with the lunar New Year. TCA, which has a large number of foreign students, offers a wide variety of dishes for the New Year and holds bingo competitions. On the day, students cooked rice cakes, Chinese boiled dumplings, and Korean rice cake supe and served everyone. The next day was Setsubun, the last day of winter, so we had Ehoumaki as well! Not only foreign students but also many Japanese students participated in the conversation and enjoyed the cuisine of each country. It was a very fulfilling time as a forum for exchange between foreign students and Japanese students who could not return to hometown in the New Year.
