Berkeley Study Abroad Course (1st grade)

LIN SHUO

China Graduate of Sichuan Music Academy

Mr. Lin's experience was very impressive where he had to have a temporary absence from school for almost two years due to the COVID-19 pandemic and finally was able to enter Japan. At the point he thought he can enter Japan, Shanghai's lockdown has started, he again thought he could not enter Japan and there, the action he took with only one guitar and change of clothes made him to start up from Shanghai in the nick of time. After graduating from Sichuan Music Academy, Mr. Lin was active while aiming to study abroad in Japan. He is a musician who webcasts on some platforms such as YouTube, Bilibili, TikTok and he has a lot of fans. He chose "Kobe Koyo School of Music and Dance" to study JAZZ in his favorite country Japan, then he started to Berkeley Study Abroad Course. From Koyo to Berkeley. And to the world. His dreams continue big and boundless.

LAW YI

Malaysia Graduate of Pusat Bahasa Teikyo

Ms. Law was on standby for two years in Malaysia due to COVID-19, with a strong desire to study in Japan. While waiting for Japan entry, she took a year off from school for the first year and in her second year took online classes. "To be honest, I was worried about whether I could study in Japan while waiting, but I didn't give up and did my best in online classes every day. I was really happy when my dream of going to Japan finally came true. I'm looking forward to my school life at TCA from now on!" she said. On April 12th, 2022, a joint entrance ceremony was held at 9 schools of the Jikei COM Group in Tokyo, and Ms. Law also attended with many students. It seems that they enjoyed the "first class" from the bottom of their hearts with many students who were on standby in their respective countries. We are supporting her so that her future study abroad life will be fulfilling and her future dream will come true.

MUHAMMAD DANNIE SYAFIQ BIN MOHD JAMIL

Mr. Dannie was finally able to study abroad in Japan after having 1 year of temporary absence. Until he enters Japan, he participated in an online tea party and maintained his motivation to study abroad. He was waiting to enter Japan with a feeling of waiting for years, so he is excited for the beginning of his study abroad life. Compared with his home country, Malaysia, Japan is very convenient and decent. What surprised him especially was that the utility bills can be paid at the convenience store. Regarding transportation, cars are used in Malaysia mostly, but in Japan, bicycles are another option for transportation, so it seems this was a culture shock for him. At school, seeing the works of classmates are being a good stimulus, "The opportunity to learn from everybody's ideas will lead me to grow up" he said with a serious look.

One of my childhood dreams has finally come true!

CHIANG YI CHING

Taiwan Graduate of National Ilan University (Taiwan)

We talked to Ms. Chiang, who had to have a temporary absence from school for 1 year and was waiting to enter Japan in her home country, due to the COVID-19 restrictions.

"1 year of the pandemic, it was really a long time. I even thought about giving up studying abroad if I cannot enter Japan this year too. However, studying in Japan was my childhood dream, so I didn't give up. When I had a temporary absence from school, I worked part-time and saved up, I aimed the study abroad and studied hard for Japanese. My wish came true and I could have entered Japan without a problem, so one of my dreams has been realized. I'm really glad. I also attended the entrance ceremony. It felt happy watching the seniors' performances with a lot of new students.

I enrolled in school, all the teachers and classmates treat me kindly and every day is fun. Now I'm concentrated on the lessons, I aim to be an animal trainer and I'm studying hard for it. In the future, I want to be a seal trainer and to show the seals' charm to the people in my home country. I want to take home the techniques I learn at school and doing great performances in Taiwan like in Japan is my dream. In order to make this dream real, I will do my best to achieve the grades that won't lose to my Japanese friends!"

The school entrance ceremony of the Jikei COM Group in the Tokyo area was held at the Tokyo International Forum on April 12. The interviewee was Mr. Michael, who aims to be a game creator. "At the entrance ceremony, I was really impressed by the presentation of TECH.C.'s seniors. With only 1 year difference, the appearance of the 2nd grade senior who is making a presentation dignifiedly on that big stage was very inspiring. I thought I want to be like that and my motivation increased. I want to study CG and create high-quality VR games in Japan. To achieve this goal, I will study seriously for 4 years." Mr. Michael said with a hopeful look. We're looking forward to your future activities!

WU LIANG SHUAN

Taiwan Graduate of Waseda University Honjo High School

As a culmination of one year's Japanese learning, we held the "Japanese Speech Contest" at "We are TCA" on February 5th. As an outcome of what is learned at Japanese Communication class, in-class selection was held. The selected 6 people gave speeches at the Makuuchi Messe venue. Among them, Ms. Wu Liang Shuan, who was unable to enter Japan due to the COVID-19 restrictions and participated in online classes for one year in Taiwan, won the 2nd place prize "Outstanding Performance Award" as a result of her efforts. She was able to enter Japan safely this month and she started her study abroad life. "In this contest, I was the only student who gave a speech online. I thought it will be easy because I couldn't see the judges. On the contrary, I felt nervous because I couldn't see everyone's expressions and reactions so I was unable to see if my words are reaching correctly or not. I'm glad that I was able to convey it well. I think that there will be many opportunities to give presentations in Japanese in the future too, so it was a useful experience."

After entering Japan, I received an honorable certificate from my homeroom teacher!

Within the explanation of "What is e-sports?", business development which is using e-sports and attraction of e-sports, I worked on the video production, creating powerpoints or documents for the presentations, etc. as the main member. Providing music to actual artists using AI

Tokyo School of Music and Dance
Music Producer Course (Graduate student)

ZHANG CHENGYUE

China Graduate of Wayo Japanese Language Institute

I made the music provision for the artist "Moe Iori" as a task of the company E.A.U. Co., Ltd. This time, it was a music production in which I used AI and I was in charge of everything like composition, arrangement, and mixing. I even ordered the recording from the music studio in China to use the raw sounds of strings. The music production we made as a team was fun anyway. As we did the exchange of views with the members, I was able to look from a more objective view than the time I worked by myself and I was able to see my habits. At TSM, because I'm able to challenge with doing the tasks coming from the companies, there is a chance that my productions can be used in the industry and also I can take music orders of a lot of genres, so the range of expression has expanded. All the lessons and encounters at TSM are very important. My goal is to work in Japan as a singer-songwriter and a composer.

Making music as a team is fun

Osaka College of Culinary Arts

LIU HO YIN

China (Hong Kong) Graduate of Osaka YMCA Japanese Language School

Shimanaga Fruit Sales Co., Ltd. (Cafe • Barista)

"I was interested in Japanese culture and cuisine. I want to run my own shop in the future, so I felt the necessity of learning Japanese hospitality and technique, and had studied abroad to make my dreams come true. I'm aiming to be a manager who can read the customer's mentality so I felt the importance of psychology and studied psychology at the university after graduating from the Japanese Language school. Then I enrolled at Osaka College of Culinary Arts to study Cafe Management which was my original purpose. It may seem like a detour, but I think the advantage of this experience led to a job offer."

LIU HO YIN

My ideal cafe shop is a relaxing place where there is a connection of human relations. I know it's difficult to get a working visa in the food sector but I was able to get a specific activity visa, so I'm not letting the time I spent following my dreams be wasted."

KWON HEE JIN

South Korea Graduate of MCA Mitsumine Career Academy Japanese Language Course

Kaikai Kiki Animation Studio PONCOTAN Nakano (CG Animator)

I found out that the technique which is used in my favorite movies like Harry Potter or Frozen is called CG. Learning this technique, using it in a movie, and impressing people were the trigger for aiming for this industry. When I was looking for a school where I can learn this technique, I went on a school tour which is introduced by the Japanese school. The teacher who taught the lessons and the seniors who guided the school were very kind, I thought that I can study in a good atmosphere and I enrolled in Tokyo Design Technology Center College. During the first year, drawing the croquis every week as the sketch lesson's task improved my morphology (shape) and observation skills. From the second year onward, I was able to learn various techniques and the importance of communication while completing the work as a team through the "CG project".

KWON HEE JIN

In order to get a job in Japan, I made an effort to get JLPT N1 by the time I graduated and prepared a portfolio so that I could show it to the company at any time. Thanks to my efforts, I was able to join the company of the occupation I desired. From now on too, while challenging what I want to do, I want to work cheerfully and happily and be a person who impresses other people.

I'm also an adviser on "Sports Yabusame", which is born from the traditional Japanese horse bow, straddling the back of the horse and hitting the target with a bow. At first, I was worried because there were so many things I didn't understand, but the people at my workplace taught me politely, so I'm having a lot of fun while working now! I'm very glad that I can make use of the knowledge and the technique I learned at school about hippology or craftworks in my workplace. In order to make Japanese horse and culture known overseas, when COVID-19 calms down, I will do my best to guide tourists from overseas. I'm sure everyone has worries, but please challenge yourself, take a step forward and do your best! Just do it!"

COVER Corporation (2D Designer)

We would like to introduce our international student who won a prize at "Hololive & Holostars V-tuber Character Production", a business task of the company Cover Co., Ltd. which TCA Comic Illustration course students worked on. And she got a job offer right after it! The first international student who got a job offer in the academic year of 2022! Ms. Tang, born in Hong Kong, was interested in the V-tuber world actually. She learned free soft by herself in her 1st year, then in the 2nd year, she learned Live 2D motion in the Live 2D lesson. This time it was difficult working on this project because she was working on another project also. In this hard schedule, she created a work with trial-and-error. "I've tried to create works that never seen before and incorporate my own personality. I used the style which I usually like and researched the corporate culture which the companies want, and I reflected on them in my work. I'm really happy that I was able to win the award. I'm looking forward to the internship starting in July."

We are looking forward to Ms. Tang's future activities, who is very cheerful and gives energy to the surroundings!

WU YUE

China Graduate of Japan - China Language Academy

After graduation, I got a job at a CG company. In there, I gained experience as a VFX director, then I transferred to Spade&Co. There was a time that I was aiming for Hollywood, but I have decided to do my best in Japan. Currently, I'm working as a VFX director at the company that creates high-end VFX for movies, TV series, commercials, video clips, etc. I'm fascinated that the things we cannot capture in real actually can be created using VFX. The happiness and pleasure of doing the job I like surpass everything. I guess the movie I worked on at the end of last year at the Shochiku Studio in Kyoto will be released soon. The sense of accomplishment when I see my name on the ending credits blows all the hardships away. I would like everyone to live a life where they do the job they like and can taste that sense of accomplishment and feel alive.

D.A.G Inc. (3DCG Designer)

Everyone is good friends with classmates regardless of nationality

We received great news from Mr. Han, who got a job offer from the company DAG Inc. and started his working life in Japan this spring. He applied for a working visa to work as a 3DCG designer and he got 5 years of permission. Getting a 5-year working visa changing from the study abroad visa is a rare achievement in recent years. "When I heard from my friends and workmates there isn't anyone who got a 5-year visa, I realized that I got really a long-term visa. "Seeing that everyone has different periods, even in the same company, I thought that there is an effect on the grades and the attendance rate. I felt it was never a time waste to enrich my studies and I am proud of myself. I'm very satisfied with my working life. Although I have not started the job yet and I'm only doing training tasks, what I am doing right now is a profession, not a different thing and it's becoming an extension line of what I studied, so everything is progressing smoothly. It's a company that I can get along with my superiors and seniors right away, so I want to get used to it and start the job already." We received this nice message from him. We look forward to his future success!

LAI YEN HO

Taiwan Soochow University (Taiwan)

Mr. Lai launched a music studio in Taiwan as the Sound Color music producer and the president of Dyverse Studio. Besides, he is a lecturer of Digital Music Application at National Tsing Hua University, and also gives lectures at Ensemble Music Center about the arrangement of J-pop's trendy music. He wants to expand Japanese music in Taiwan, therefore he is also focusing on human resource development. We received good words which make us happy that the reason he was able to be involved in works like Taiwan's commercial songs or band songs right after he came back to his home country was that he studied abroad in Japan. His representative works include arrangements of Sony BRAVIA MASTER series commercial songs, 2017 Shanghai China joy theme songs, etc. Even after returning to his home country, he has been in an active role in the music industry and we are very happy and proud that there are graduates who will participate in the development of the next generation. We are looking forward to more of his success.
